

For Wholesale Customer

Notice:

1. As your dress will be made-to-measure, you will need to provide your measurements when placing your order. It's easy – simply ask the person who will be taking your measurements to follow the instructions on our Customization. We have a team of professional dressmakers who will create the dress you have selected in the exact size and colour specified.
2. All prices are quoted in US Dollar. To find out how much a dress will cost in your own currency, please click here.
3. When you receive your gown, unpack it and hang it to allow any creases to fall out. If the gown is showing crinkles, hang it in your bathroom and run the hot water in the bath or shower for several minutes until the crinkles fall out. However, be sure to keep the gown away from any direct contact with the water. For smaller wrinkles, you may simply try holding a steam iron near the gown, releasing steam into the air next to it, but never bring the iron in direct contact with the fabric. Alternatively, you could take it to be professionally done at a place that specialized in steaming and cleaning wedding dresses.

Purchasing Order Process

Measurement Method

You will need a flexible tailor's measuring tape. They come mostly in plastic now, but sometimes you can find a paper or even cloth ones. Definitely do not use a metal carpenter's measuring tape or yard stick or anything of the sort.

Shoes that you will wear with the garment or some that are of the same height. You need to wear these when taking the length measurements.

Undergarments that you plan on wearing with the garment. This may be a corset, bustier, strapless bra or a regular bra. Of course it is also ok if you don't want wearing any undergarments.

Back across

Bust front length

Bust to bust(bust point to bust point, or technically, nipple to nipple)

Full bust (around bust at fullest point)

Waist length(around waist at smallest point)

Full hip(around hips at fullest point)

Shoulder to floor front(stand up straight)

We think logistic is very important in bridal business and we use express simply because:

- 1.The value is considered high compare to other kind of goods, and you want it secure during transportation.
- 2.You do not want the goods to face unnecessary shock during transit, and courier service actually provides you the best care possible.
- 3.Timing is important in bridal business, and you want it fast. It only takes 1-3 days to reach anywhere in the world.
- 4.You want to feel comfortable with a tracking number, so you always know where your parcel is.
- 5.It is a door to door service, so you don't have the hassle of clearing customs and lots of documentation etc.
- 6.We have special discount rate which allows you to enjoy low cost efficient shipping, and often it is cheaper than air cargo.
